

HOUSING 1000

Housed July 1, 2011 through October 31, 2011 Fact Sheet

Housing 1000 is the local campaign under the national 100,000 Homes Campaign and is a partnership between Destination: Home, the Santa Clara County Collaborative on Affordable Housing and Homeless Issues and Community Technology Alliance.

According to the 2011 Santa Clara County Homeless Census and Survey, 7,045 people are homeless in Santa Clara County on a given night. Of these, 2,520 are considered chronically homeless, an eleven percent increase since the 2009 census. Our goal is to house 1,000 homeless individuals by 2013. In conjunction with the national 100,000 Homes Campaign, our local Housing 1000 is dedicated to finding our most vulnerable and long-term homeless individuals and placing them in permanent housing with the services they need to stay housed.

We will do this by clarifying the needs of the homeless people in our community. Then we bring this information back to our community partners – including our cities, our county, our housing authority, our service providers, and other community stakeholders – so that together, we can create permanent housing solutions for those most in need.

The top 100 list represents the clients with the highest degree of vulnerability coupled with longest length of time in the streets in our community. The top 100 are the first to be served through our Care Coordination Project, which launched in November 2011.

Housing 1000:

Housing 1000 is the local campaign under the national 100,000 Homes Campaign and is a partnership between Destination: Home, the Santa Clara County Collaborative on Affordable Housing and Homeless Issues and Community Technology Alliance. Together, we have a plan to permanently house 1,000 homeless individuals by 2013.

100,000 Homes Campaign:

A project of Community Solutions, the 100,000 Homes Campaign is bringing together change agents to find homes for 100,000 vulnerable, long-term homeless individuals and families across the country by July 2013. Together, we are fundamentally altering our nation's response to chronic homelessness by giving communities concrete tools and connecting them with one another so no one has to innovate alone. Over 100 communities have joined the Campaign and helped over 11,000 homeless people reconnect with homes.
